Professional wrestling promotion CHIKARA is teaming with Philabundance in efforts to raise 1,000 pounds of food on Saturday, December 5! CHIKARA, based in Philadelphia since 2002, will be holding a mini-golf fundraiser in the afternoon featuring all of its characters, and will be collecting non-perishable food items at the door of its season finale event, “Top Banana” that evening. In addition, ALL fans 12 & under will be admitted for free to the event with a paying adult. Details on both events are found below.

“If each fan brings 1 can of food, we should be able to meet our goal. We’ll make sure that every fan in attendance has a great time, and Philabundance will make sure every donated can goes to the right place. It’s a match made in heaven!” remarked CHIKARA founder and “Director of Fun” Mike Quackenbush about the coalition.

About CHIKARA

Since 2002, CHIKARA has been a market leader bringing their unique, family-friendly flavor of professional wrestling to a global fanbase. Taking the “fun-filled lucha super party” on tour and streaming onto screens via home video, Pay-Per-View, and Video on Demand, has helped CHIKARA build a rabid following that transcends all stereotypes. CHIKARA has reached millions of fans across 15 seasons of action, in more than 40 countries

About Philabundance

Philabundance (philabundance.org) was created in 1984 with the simple belief that no man, woman, or child should go hungry. We seek to drive hunger from our communities and end hunger forever.
